LEVY SUMMER OVERVIEW

SUMMER OVERVIEW

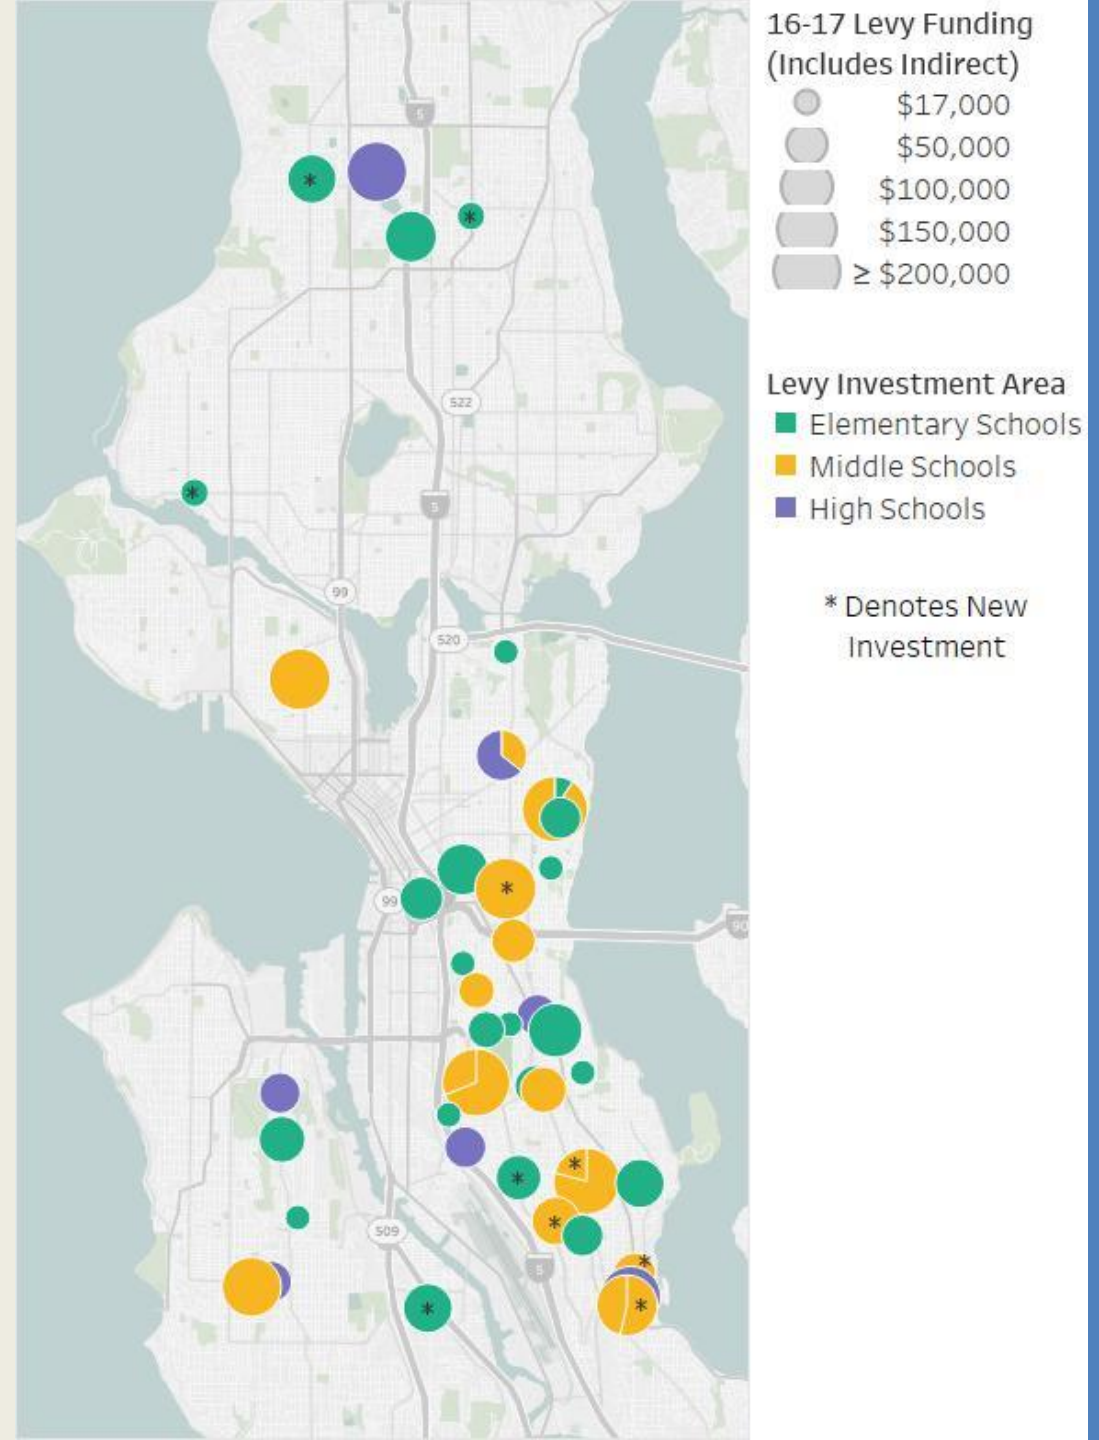

The Families and Education Levy believes that high-quality summer learning programs are critical to closing achievement and opportunity gaps.

- This summer, the Levy will invest $3.0 million in summer learning programs that serve more than 2,500 of Seattle's students.
- We are invested in 30 summer programs operating at 46 sites across the city, with the majority of sites in Southeast Seattle.
- Summer programs provide a mix of academics and enrichment activities for the same type of students that we serve during the school year (e.g. behind grade level or not proficient in math or reading, English Language Learners, and students without any prior preschool experience)

MAP OF SUMMER LEVY INVESTMENTS

Majority of the Levy Investments are concentrated in Southeast Seattle.

Other investments in West Seattle and new investments in North Seattle.

DEMOGRAPHIC ANALYSIS

As of Summer 2016

Demographic analysis is based on SPS data collected for 1,733 students, not including Kindergarten readiness programs and several K-12 programs.

CULTURALLY RESPONSIVE PROGRAMS

Initial outcome of the Mayor's Education Summit process.

General Fund investment serving almost 300 students (exceeding target of 200 students):

1. Community Passageways: Small CBO of color serving the most at-risk black male leaders at South Lake High School.
2. Urban League: Partnering with Seattle Central College and Garfield High School to provide math instruction, college-level courses, and seminars on African-American history and life skills.
3. Voices of Tomorrow: Small CBO of color providing place-based arts and literacy program serving East African students at New Holly.
4. WA-BLOC: Implementing nationally recognized "Freedom Schools" curriculum focused on civil rights and literacy, for students at Rainier Beach High School and students in the Central District.
5. YWCA GirlsFirst: Serving female-identified youth of color using a racial equity lens. Will provide culturally responsive STEM programming and paid internships for high school students.
